

Organic Feed Materials Supplier

About us

At Cormorant Commodities we are your partner for the supply of organic feed materials such as functional vegetable oils, proteins, cakes or meals, cereals or grains and other by-products that are applied in the feed sector. Our team has extensive experience and knowledge of supplying the feed industry with organic materials and we distinguish ourselves from others through the following main principles:

- 🌱 We have a large suppliers network from which we can offer you cost-efficient feed solutions
  - Thereby lowering the price per tonnage
  - Increasing your preferred choice of available product quality, origin and specifications
- 🌱 Our extensive product, quality and application knowledge
- 🌱 We provide flexible and innovative results
- 🌱 Our service minded approach serving you throughout the supply chain

Industries

We have a strong track record and are active in the following industries. Furthermore we truly believe in the future of the organic sector, both in food as in feed.

Quality & Supply Chain

Our products originate from around the globe so it's vital that we maintain a strict quality procedure throughout the entire supply chain. To guarantee a reliable, sustainable and quality efficient operation we are GMP+ and SKAL organic certified.

Apart from these certifications we carefully select the suppliers we work with. This is not only limited to our product suppliers, but also our service providers such as the laboratories, surveyors, transport agents and warehouse facilities we work with. We work closely with them to continuously improve our products and services and to optimize our supply chains.

Cormorant is also committed to minimize the environmental impact of its own activities and to contribute positively to the environment. Therefore, we are proud to say that we are an official sponsor of the JustDiggIt organization. Want to learn more? Visit www.justdiggit.org
